State 2 main ideas you have learned regarding the pedagogy and principles of IB

7 responses

It supports an open curriculum which covers a wider range than mere academic acquisition of contents, integrating subjects and fields of knowledge.

I also enjoyed the concept of Growth Mindset.

Collaboration, creativity, scaffolding.

Reflectives and open-minded

Critical thinking

Essays about different topics

1-The student is the center of attention and the need to reorganise contents and activities to make them useful and meaningful to them

2-Different techniques that can be applied to make groups of students get involved more easily

3-I love the idea of having extra physical activities to start classes with renewed strenght and full mindedness

Explain what(if any)is the main advantage of IB

To me, it is a really comprehensive approach to real learning for real life.

The development of students' skills and not only knowledge

Individual learning but working in teams. Work by projects

It helps students to develop as future world citizens with open minds

The methodology employed which mainly aims at making students conscious of the world around them and the idea of having them worked in compulsory topics through reasearching is something really appealing.

In my opinion IB provides students with a global focus of subjects on a practical basis

Un currículo amplio, equilibrado, con enfoque internacional.

What session did you enjoy the most?Why?

The one in which we had to share our proposals.

The one with the video about Carol Dweck. Because I found that the word is "not yet" is really useful for the learning.

Germán Tenorio

Probably the one with German, despite the fact he gave us lots of new information I had the sensation I was doing some real practice on the topic at the same time

All of them except the last one with the expert, which was a repetition of contents worked previously

The sessions with the lecturers were the best for me because they talked from their own experiences

La sesión con el coordinador Germán Tenorio. Porque me aclaró muchas cuestiones y lo relacionó todo. Muy aclaratoria, la charla.

Which content/activities would you add or change?

None

I think that for future courses could be interesting special sessions for the different topics in IB.

More examples including how to evaluate. I'm not clear about that.

I would plan a second IB course about evaluation, rubrics and essays

I do not miss anything , but think the experience should be continued in future as there so many things we need to learn and practice

I would like to learn more about the projects

No cambiaría nada más que dedicar algo más de tiempo a ejemplos concretos de desarrollo del currículo.

Y quizá, se podría haber visitado, en el IES Padre Manjón a su coordinador.

Which content/activities did you find less useful?

I think a more interaccional approach to some theoretical sessions might have been provided. I have the feeling that I "know" something about it but I do not really "know" what it exactly consists of, in terms of specific lines of action.

Probably the last session with German Osorio, probably for the techology problems and the lack of time.

All of them were useful

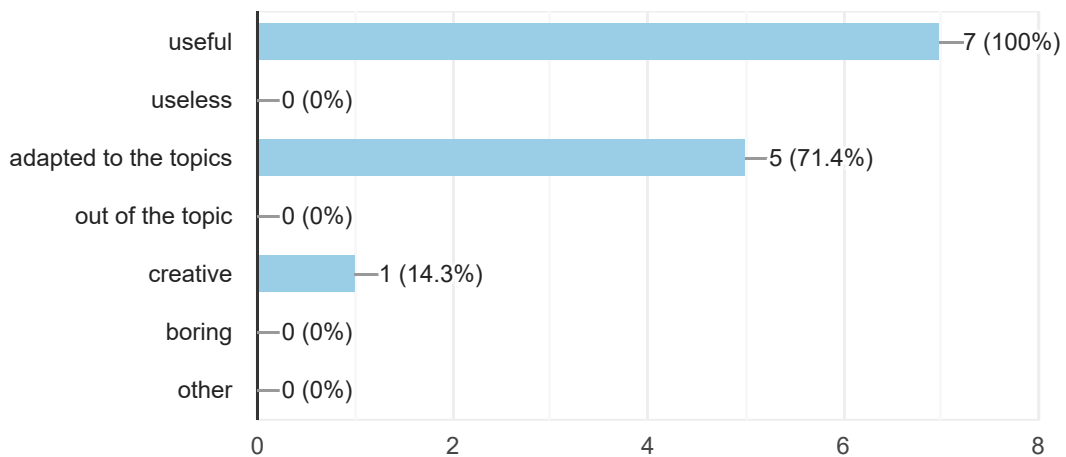

Probably the readings

none

Maybe those which were very particular in their contents, I could not see how I would take those issues to my class (for instance the session where we watched a video of an inspector implementing students encouragement, it was very nice seeing what he could do at school with weaker students but not possible to be carried out in our system)

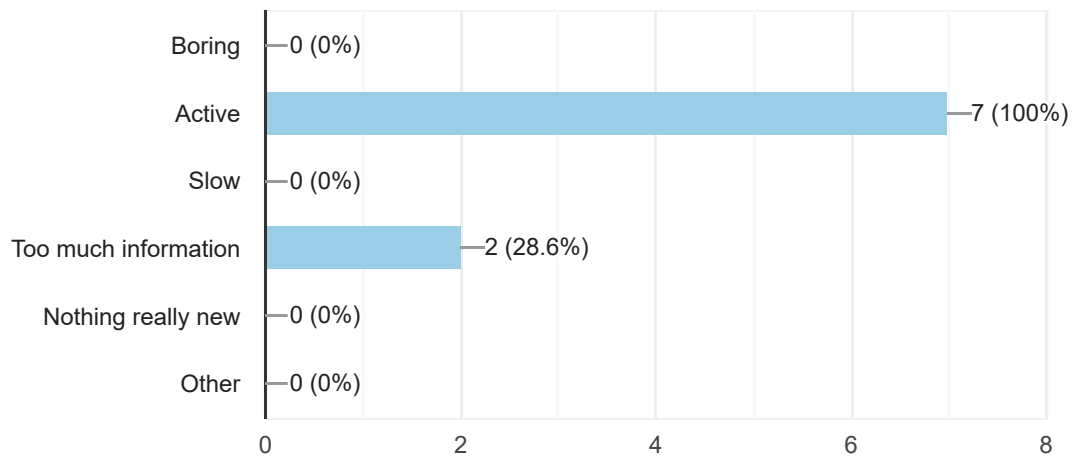

The activities carried out during the sessions or as homework were

A good idea to do interdisciplinary tasks and activities in the High School, creating a sense of cooperation between teachers, something which seemed to be sometimes the exception rather than the norm.

Really interesting, the students enjoyed and learned.

An interesting project, sometimes I am surprised at we can join all the subjets around an idea but I doubt if we could develop all the curriculum in this way

Interesting and challenging

Excellent

Amazing, I could see my students willingly working and learning, they brought to my task contents they have learned from other teachers.

Bueno.
